

Hiss Defense Attacks Chambers' Character

Chambers Admits Lying Under Oath

New York, June 3—(AP)—Whittaker Chambers admitted today that he lied under oath to the same federal grand jury that indicted Alger Hiss on a charge of testifying falsely.

Chambers said he told the grand jury he had no direct knowledge of Russian spy activity.

"Then you admit now that you testified falsely and committed perjury before the grand jury in this building?" he was asked.

"That's right," Chambers replied.

Based On Chambers' Charges

The government has based its perjury case on Hiss' denial of Chambers' charges that Hiss passed government secrets to him. Chambers has admitted he was a courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring.

Hiss said that Chambers lied. Under a merciless courtroom attack, Chambers spoke in soft tones as cross-examination exposed his own past.

He stepped down from the witness stand late in the day, self-described as a liar, a one-time potential traitor to his country, and a godless, immoral, furtive former communist.

The defense launched the attack on Chambers' character in its attempt to shake Chambers' story that Hiss used the position the government bestowed on him to steal secrets for Russian spies.

Convicted, Hiss, one-time honored official in the Roosevelt administration, faces the possibility of prison and a fine.

Deal To Steal Secrets Made

Chambers testified yesterday that the deal to steal the secrets was made by himself, Hiss and Col. Boris Bykov, an alleged Russian spy, at a Chinatown restaurant in New York in 1937.

From the outset of the trial, Stryker has branded Chambers a "moral leper" whose testimony against Hiss cannot be trusted by the jury of 10 men and two women.

Today he hammered at Chambers' character with sharp questions. Stryker asked Chambers if it was true that a Communist party member was "a potential spy, a saboteur and actually an enemy to our system of government?"

"True," replied Chambers.

"Is it not a fact that a person who joins the party has to obey its orders and may have to lie, steal, rob or go out into the street and fight?"

"That is right," admitted Chambers, frowning at his last tie.

Commies Are Atheists

Stryker asked Chambers if the witness once told the House un-American activities committee that every communist is by nature an atheist.

"Yes," was the reply.

Q: "Was that true?"

A: "It is true in a sense but it needs amplification."

Q: "You would say that a communist was a traitor to his country?"

A: "Yes."

Q: "And for 12 or 14 years you were a traitor to your country?"

A: "That is right."

Q: "Did you not entertain many of the principles of communism before joining the party?"

A: "No, I did not."

A: "Yes."

Blazing Magazine Of Shells Thrown Overboard By Mate

Seattle, June 3—(P)—A chief gunner's mate hurled a blazing 20 mm. shell magazine overboard from the navy destroyer Maddox yesterday, preventing serious damage to his vessel and possibly saving the lives of several of her naval reserve crew.

The Maddox and her sister ship, the Moore were en route to their San Diego base from a training cruise to southeastern Alaska. They were holding target practice off Cape Flattery when a 20 mm. shell primer exploded aboard the Maddox.

The magazine, set afire by the blast was wrenched loose and thrown into the sea by Chief Gunner's Mate Sammie T. Neel of San Diego.

D. A. Hanson, naval reserve seaman from Portland, was struck in the leg by the exploding primer. The Maddox returned under forced draft to Seattle. There Hanson was given first aid before transfer to the Bremerton naval hospital.

A piece of casing pierced his leg just above the knee. The condition of the 21-year-old seaman was satisfactory today.

Neel, 33-year-old veteran of nine years navy service, insisted today his action wasn't heroic.

"I just did what it says to do in the book," he said.

A. P. Giannini, Poor Boy To Rich Banker, Dies

San Mateo, Calif., June 3—(P)—Amadeo Peter "A. P." Giannini, who rose from boy produce peddler to head the world's richest bank, died in his sleep this morning. He was 79.

Founder and chairman of the Bank of America, Giannini died at his San Mateo home, "Seven Oaks."

He had been ill for nearly a month with a cold. Doctors said the illness put too much strain on a weakened heart.

Giannini retired in 1945 from chairmanship of the bank, a six-million dollar corporation. He was promoted named "founder-chairman" by its directors.

His only son, L. M. Giannini, succeeded him as president of the bank. He also leaves a daughter, Mrs. Claire G. Hoffman of San Mateo.

Giannini also served, until his retirement in 1920 as president of Trans-America corporation, a vast holding company affiliated with Bank of America.

Giannini was a fighter in the world of business. He battled California banking interests with one hand and government regulations with the other. Transamerica corporation even now is embroiled in government accusations of policies which have a monopolistic tendency.

His career constantly verged on the spectacular. Two years after he opened his bank (then the Bank of Italy) it was burned out by San Francisco's great fire of 1906. Giannini hauled its cash and records to safety—hidden under a cartload of produce. With this stake he reopened his bank and was strong enough to weather the 1907 panic.

Every branch of his bank survived depression and panic, and now Bank of America's 500 branch banks serve more than 3,000,000 depositors in 360 California cities. Resources total more than $6,000,000,000.

Giannini liked to say the "best bargain" of his career was Clorinda Cuneo, whom he married in 1892, when she was 22. She died in 1941.

A solemn requiem Mass will be held in San Francisco Monday.

Big 4 Meeting Fails To Settle Berlin RR Strike

Berlin, June 3—(P)—A conference of Big Four military commanders to settle the Berlin railway strike failed today.

The 32-hour meeting, called at the request of the Russians, ended in a deadlock. It was the first such session of the commanders here in 50 weeks. A British spokesman said no plans were made for another.

British Maj. Gen. G. K. Bourne said six proposals for settling the 14-day walkout of 14,000 anti-communist West Berlin workers were made by the western officers, but "it was a most unprofitable discussion."

Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, the Soviet commandant, turned down all of them. He reiterated a Russian request that western Berlin police be withdrawn from western sector stations, where they were sent to replace Soviet sector railway police after rioting early in the strike.

Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley, the American commandant, told newsmen "a great number of proposals were offered and discussed."

The Russians control the Berlin railway system, under a four-power agreement of 1945. The West Berlin railway men struck with a demand for full payment of wages in west marks, recognition of their independent union UGO as their bargaining agent, and job security.

They voted 13,477 to 388 yesterday against accepting a communist-sponsored compromise which would have provided for payment of 60 per cent of their wages in west marks.

States Population Of Illinois Prisons Could Be Cut 25%

Chicago, June 3—(P)—A committee on prisons declared today that the inmate population of Illinois crowded penitentiaries could be cut 25 per cent.

The reduction would be possible, it said, if the state's probation and parole system were improved.

The report was made at a one-day conference on probation, prison and parole held at the University of Chicago. Some 300 penologists, enforcement officers, judges and lawyers attended the session.

The committee also recommended increased central control of the state's prison administration, investigation of disciplinary practices in the prisons, and improvement of medical, psychiatric and educational programs in the penitentiary system.

The report said that the two prisons at Joliet contained 4,554 inmates on June 30, 1948; Pontiac held 1,212, and Menard 2,140.

"There is good reason to believe that a far greater proportion of individuals convicted of crime in Illinois are committed to prison than the protection of society and the effective rehabilitation of criminal offenders warrants."

"A systematic state-wide development of probation could have the effect of reducing the prison population by upwards of 25 per cent."

The committee added that "intelligent experimentation with parole could accelerate the turnover of prison population and thus check the increase of absolute numbers."

Moline, Ill., June 3—(P)—Negotiations between the John Deere company and the CIO-UAW were broken off today without a settlement.

Irving Pickett, of Kansas City, U.S. conciliator who had been attempting to arrange a settlement of the wage dispute, reported that "negotiations have been adjourned. No date has been set for their resumption." There was no comment from disputants.

The UAW has been in negotiation with the farm equipment manufacturer since March 23. Contracts covering 15,000 workers in seven plants in Illinois and Iowa expired May 6. Wages and a union pension demand are at issue.

A meeting of the union executive board, which has power to call a strike at any time, has been called for tonight.

Plants affected are the three in Moline and those in Des Moines, Ottumwa, Waterloo, and Dubuque, Iowa.

Jan Chrzest, spokesman for a group of seven Polish refugee families who returned here aboard the motorship Batory said there are still 3,000 Poles at Camp Koza in Uganda who had been trying unsuccessfully to get back to Poland.

Chudzick said Poles were required to work seven hours daily in tropical weather, while Britishers worked only three to four hours.

(A colonial official, spokesman in London said there was no foundation for these charges. He said: "These camps are run on behalf of the International Relief or action (IRO) who have accredited representatives in East Africa and there never have been any complaints."

(The British spokesman continued: "No obstacle is placed in the way of a single Pole returning to Poland. In fact, the reverse is true. The fact is that a great majority of the Poles utterly refuse even to consider returning to Poland.")

Washington, June 3—(P)—Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said tonight there is no sure proof that a bottle of uranium-235 was missing from a buried waste box was the original missing container in the Chicago "lost U-235" mystery.

Casting doubt on the Atomic Energy commission's report yesterday that the bottle had been found and positively identified, Hickenlooper told newsmen:

"There is no reliable proof that it was the original container from which the uranium-235 was missing."

And without elaborating, he declared:

"The possibility of espionage in the case cannot be discounted. There is something more involved in this than the 'four gram fitters' to which reference has been made."

The Iowa Senator alluded to AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal's plea against "gitter" merely because four grams of U-235—about one-eighth of an ounce—is still missing from the original lost ounce.

The AEC has said the other seven-eighths of an ounce was recovered from waste material at the Chicago Argonne Atomic laboratory, where the loss was discovered last Feb. 8. The FBI was not notified until seven weeks later.

Members of two Southern Illinois riding clubs, they came here for a sale of registered Tennessee walking horses today and tomorrow.

Political Influence In B-36 Plans Denied

Washington, June 3—(P)—Air Secretary Symington today hotly denied political influence in the air force's B-36 bomber program, and branded as "a lie" intimations he might quit for a private job in the aircraft industry.

In a blistering letter to Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee, Symington categorically denied statements made on the floor of the House by Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) "that the B-36 picture is riddled with politics, influence and disregard of military security."

In particular, the air secretary said it was "a lie" that he planned to resign and head up an aircraft combine to be organized by Floyd Oduum, head of Atlas corporation, as reported by Van Zandt.

Oduum's Atlas corporation controls the Consolidated Aircraft company, which manufactures the B-36. Secretary of Defense Johnson was a director of Consolidated before he succeeded to the defense post held by the late James Forrestal.

Van Zandt, in reporting "rumors" concerning the B-36 purchasing program to the House, said that Oduum was an important contributor to last year's Democratic campaign. Johnson, before taking office, was head fund-raiser.

Symington, in his letter to Vinson, said Johnson had "no part whatsoever in the establishment of any part of the B-36 program."

"At no time since I have been secretary has any authority attempted to recommend in any way the purchase of any airplane," Symington said.

"Every airplane that has been purchased by the air force since I was named secretary was recommended to me by the chief of staff (Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg) and his staff."

Symington's hot report to the Van Zandt statements added new fuel to the controversy which has been raging about the air force's high-speed six engine bomber.

3 Commies Jailed In Courtroom Row

Uproar Starts As Gates Refuses To Answer Query

New York, June 3—(P)—Three top U.S. communists on trial in federal court were jailed today by Judge Harold R. Medina, who held them in contempt in a bitter courtroom row.

The shouting, confused scene erupted after Medina had ordered defendant John W. Gates to jail for 30 days for persistent refusal to answer prosecution questions on cross-examination.

All of Gates' 10 co-defendants jumped to their feet.

Shouts About "Lynching"

Henry Winston, husky negro who is party organizational secretary, was heard to shout something about "lynching."

The judge said to him: "I direct that you be remanded."

Gus Hall, bulky Ohio state chairman of the party, roared he had seen "fairer justice" in police courts.

Medina eyed him through his spectacles.

"Let's see, that's Mr. Hall," he said. "You are remanded for the balance of the trial."

Remanding means that the defendants' bail is revoked and that they must remain in jail all the time except when court is in session.

All have been tried in charges of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

The judge repeatedly stated that Gates, 35-year-old editor of the communist Daily Worker, could purge himself of contempt by agreeing to answer U. S. Attorney John P. X. McGohery's questions.

Denies All Requests

The judge denied all requests to stay his remanding order; pending appeal to a higher court or to revoke them.

He asserted "the proceedings in the United States district court over which I preside will be as orderly as I can make them."

Medina also declared "I cannot permit a defendant who has taken the stand in his own defense to choose what questions he will answer."

He insisted he was not taking a "hasty step." Several days ago Medina warned another defendant, City Councilman Benjamin Davis, Jr., that he was subject to being jailed.

After the trial session, defense counsel made two fruitless applications to other federal judges for bail for the jailed men.

Judge Samuel H. Kaufman of the district court turned down a plea that bail be reinstated for all three.

Then Judge Augustus N. Hand of the circuit court of appeals made a similar ruling with respect to Gates only. He said the application could be renewed before a full session of the three judges of the circuit court Monday.

Summer Term Begins June 6—Day-Night School

YMCA Plans Program Of Summer Activities

A busy program of summer activities for the boys and girls of the Jacksonville area has been planned by the Y.M.C.A. for the eight-week period, beginning June 13 and continuing through August 5.

Two playgrounds, one at the Jefferson school and the other at the Academy lot, will be open this summer, as was done last year. Efforts are underway to secure funds with which to maintain playgrounds at each of the four ward schools; however, unless further announcement is made before June 13, there will be just the two playgrounds.

Swimming instructions will be available for beginners, as well as for those who wish to improve their swimming. Life saving courses will also be offered. The instruction is made possible through the cooperation of the Red Cross water safety committee, with Mrs. Philip Bradish as chairman, and the City Park board, with John Agger as chairman. The Red Cross provides the instructors and the city furnishes the pool.

Must Be At Least 9

Youngsters who wish to take these instructions must be at least nine years of age. They will be enrolled in classes according to their ability. The only charge which will be made is for bus fare.

An application to enroll for swimming is included in the playground folder, which was distributed to all several different camps this summer. Girls may attend the Alton

YMCA camp, Talah, or the Springfield Y.W.C.A. camp, Glen Olive. Boys may attend either the Y.M.C.A. camp, Seymour, near Deatur, or Camp Plaza at Marquette State park, operated by the Alton Y.M.C.A.

The program is offered to the boys and girls of Jacksonville and Morgan county and is made possible by contributions of Morgan county citizens to the Community Chest.

Music Instruction

Instrumental music instructions for grade school boys and girls who are now taking lessons from the grade school music teacher, O. A. Schutte, are also planned. The lessons will be given during the morning at each of the four ward schools by Miss Louise Moore, who is majoring in public school music at Illinois Wesleyan university.

Softball leagues for boys and girls in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be organized in connection with the playground program if enough interest is shown on the part of the children. Entry blanks are available at the "Y" for those who are interested. At least four teams are necessary for a league.

Baseball League

An effort is also being made, in cooperation with the American Legion and the Moose lodge, to organize a baseball league for boys up to and including 17 years of age. Arrangements have been completed for boys and girls to attend several different camps this summer. Girls may attend the Alton

Circus Chaplain Will Speak At Union Services

One of the most interesting speakers to appear before any congregation will be heard Sunday evening June 5 at the Centenary Methodist church at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. "Doc" Waddell, who calls himself, "The Chaplain of The Canvass Church," will be the guest speaker. He has been secured through the Ministerial Association of this city.

The Mills Bros. Circus which will be in Jacksonville next Monday is a unique in many ways. One of the outstanding things about the circus is that it has no shows on Sunday, but conducts church under the big home at the time was his brother, Wayne Worrall, who is a senior at the Missouri School of Mines.

Senators Combine 14 Hits, 5 Brown Errors To Beat Them 12 To 3

St. Louis, June 3.—(P)—The Washington Senators combined 14 hits with five Brownie errors to overwhelm the slump-ridden St. Louis Cardinals tonight, 12 to 3. It was the cellar dwellers' ninth straight defeat and their eighth in as many contests with the high-flying Senators.

Bespangled Paul Calvert handcuffed the Browns with five hits, two being home runs by Stan Spencer and Dick Kokos. Until Kokos connected with Jack Graham on base in the ninth, Calvert had limited the Browns to one base runner an inning. It was his sixth victory against three defeats.

Three errors by the usually dependable Bob Dillinger and two more by Johnny Sullivan figured heavily in the Nats' scoring. Joe Kuhel's outfit racked up two unearned runs off starter Ned Garver in the first and posted two more of the earned variety in the third, from there on it was a rout.

Eddie Yost clouted his third homer in as many nights for the Nats in the eighth. Washington AB R H O A Yost, 2b, 3 2 2 0 0 Coan, lf, 6 2 2 2 0 Popherson, rf, 5 3 2 1 0 Vollmer, cf, 5 0 2 4 0 Robinson, 1b, 5 1 2 1 1 Kozar, 2b, 4 2 2 2 2 Dente, ss, 4 0 2 1 6 Evans, c, 4 1 0 2 0 Calvert, p, 5 1 0 1 3

WIN WOMEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE

Woodcock Signs To Fight Savold For British Title

London, June 3.—(P)—Less than 24 hours after he knocked out Freddie Mills, British heavyweight Bruce Woodcock signed today to fight Lee Savold of Englewood, N. J., for this country's version of the title vacated by Joe Louis.

Promoter Jack Solomons lost no time in getting the signatures of both fighters on a contract calling for them to meet here Sept. 6. He said he expected the fight to gross at least $500,000.

Solomons would not say where the fight would be held, now how much the principals would receive. London sports writers believed, however, that Woodcock and Savold each would get around $20,000 ($80,000).

There are few stadiums in London large enough to hold all the fans who will want to see the pair tangle. Solomons' best bet seems to be White City stadium, where Woodcock defended his British, Empire and European heavyweight titles last night by flattening Mills, world light heavyweight titleholder and also an Englishman, in the 11th round.

Phillies And Reds Split Twinbill: Still Tied For 5th

Philadelphia, June 3.—(P)—The Philadelphia Phillies and the Cincinnati Reds ended today's doubleheader tied for fifth place in the National League pennant race.

The Reds won the opener 3-2 on the strength of Lloyd Merriman's triple and pinch hitter Danny Litwhiler's outfield fly in the ninth. The Phils came back to square accounts 3-1 as Andy Semnick, hero of last night's home run battle with three round trippers, drove two runs home with a first-inning double.

Cincinnati took a 1-0 lead in the fourth of the opener on Frankie Baumholtz's double and Jimmy Bloodworth's single. The Phils stepped to the front in the seventh with Richie Ashburn and Gran Hamner each driving in a run. A single sacrifice, wild pitch and Hank Sawyer's fly gave the Reds another counter in the eighth.

The Phils made only three hits off Everett Lively and Frank Panovich in the nightcap but Russ Meyer kept the Reds' five blows scattered for his fourth victory in seven decisions.

Ponder And Capot Meet In Peter Pan Handicap Today

New York, June 3.—(P)—Ponder and Capot, both with designs on the rich Belmont stakes a week hence, meet again tomorrow with seven others in the 10th running of the Peter Pan handicap at Belmont park.

Ponder, Calumet Farm's surprise Kentucky Derby winner, and Green-tree Stable's Capot, which whipped Ponder and the others in the Preakness, undoubtedly will get the bulk of support in the Peter Pan. In view of the mile and one-eighth distance, Capot probably will rule the favorite in an expected crowd of 40,000.

Completing the field of three-year-old stars is Clifford Moers' Old Rockport, winner of the Santa Anita derby but a Kentucky-Derby-Preakness failure, 119; King Ranch's Curandero, 108; Walter M. Jeffords' Fibroch, 105; Eugene Jacobs' Colonel Mike, 113; George Widener's Reville, 110; B. and W. Stable's Cochoise, 104; and Fred W. Hooper's Ocean Drive, 114. Colonel Mike and Cochoise are the only ineligible for next week's Belmont.

Musial Is Convinced That Cards Will Win National League Flag

New York, June 3.—(P)—Loyalty to the Cardinals is a wonderful thing, although sometimes it covers a multitude of doubts. The "My dad can lick your dad" boast often is based on hope rather than conviction.

Anyway, we are tempted to believe Stan Musial is talking with conviction when he says he thinks the St. Louis Cardinals will win the National League pennant.

Stan Musial is the Cardinal hitting star everyone has been worrying about but Stan Musial, but unlike many a ball player in a batting slump he doesn't mind being asked what has been the matter. His answer would be a genial "nothing."

That is, he means there has been nothing wrong that you could put your finger on and say "that's it." He thinks his timing has been a little off, and that maybe he was pressing a little and hitting at bad balls in his anxiety to connect, but nothing has worried him.

In fact, the stories that worry over his restaurant business in St. Louis has been a contributing factor to his slump bring only a boyish laugh. "If I had been hitting as good as my restaurant business I'd be batting over .400," he says. "I have only a small restaurant and have had more business than I could take care of."

Ted Williams remarked when asked about Musial's inability to get started that all good hitters get going June 1, and that Musial would too. Oddly enough, it was June 1 when Stan really put on a hitting show, fairly blasting the Brooklyn Dodgers out of Ebbets Field with a brace of home runs and a single.

Goal is 2 For 4 Naturally Stan was elated. He has set his goal at two for four every day, figuring it won't take long to get your batting average up there very well at that rate.

Musial also grins at the report he might be sent to Pittsburgh. "I go to Pittsburgh every winter," he says, meaning he passes through there on his way to his home in Donora, Pa.

He and Williams, generally rated the two best hitters in the game today, have much in common. Like Williams, Musial likes to be nervous when he plays. Relaxed, but nervous, if the two can be combined.

Every spring, or whenever their paths cross, Stan and the Red Sox slugger get together to talk batting, and have discovered their theories have much in common. Both, for example, follow the ball only from the time it leaves the pitcher's hand, and are not confused by tricky windups.

"They're All Tough" In fact, Musial, if asked to name the toughest pitcher for him, would tell you that they're all tough when you are in a slump, but that none of them are tough when you're hitting. As to his rating of the Cardinals in the pennant race, Stan figures the Cardinals have the best pitching staff in the league, and a sound team to back it up. Naturally, being an extremely modest guy, he would not admit that much depends on the hitting of an outfielder named Stan Musial, but you don't have to be a brain to figure that out.

To show how modest he is, if you ask him whom he considers the best hitter in baseball he will say Ted Williams the same question he will say Stan Musial. It's all a little confusing.

Injuries Suffered In Practice Run Fatal To Driver Indianapolis, June 3.—(P)—George A. Metzler, 38-year-old Indianapolis auto race driver, died early today of injuries suffered May 28 when he crashed during a practice run at the Indianapolis motor speedway. Metzler, a veteran dirt track driver, was married and the father of one child. His death marked the 22nd driver fatality at the Indianapolis track since 1909. The car in which he smashed into the southwest turn retaining wall was owned by Lee S. Glessner, Wheeling, W. Va. It was the same mount Wilbur Shaw drove to first place in the 1937 500-mile race. Metzler had served with the Engineers in New Guinea in World War II. A dirt track racer since 1935, he had survived crackups at Goshen and Salem, Ind. It would have been his first 500.

Moose Nine Leads Baseball League; Play Away Sunday

The Jacksonville Moose baseball team, current co-leaders in the Illinois Valley independent league with Grove at noon Sunday for their fourth conquest of the season.

They have won three straight games to date and haven't suffered a single loss. Beardstown has a record of 4-0 and shares the league lead with the locals.

Fred Saigh Gives Drysdale The Word On Musial Rumor

By R. A. DRYSDALE, Sports Editor State Journal. The phone at home rang loud and long. "This is St. Louis," the voice said. "Just a moment please."

Then came another voice—"This is Fred Saigh. Fred Saigh of the Cardinals. I have received a number of letters from Springfield friends about trading Stan Musial. Did you know such a story?"

Receiving a definite and emphatic "NO" he continued: "There's absolutely nothing to it. We have never even entertained such a thought. I don't know what those eastern writers are thinking about. They have us trading Musial to three clubs. First it was Pittsburgh, then Boston and now it's Brooklyn."

"Please inform your readers that there's no truth in the report—not now or ever. You can't make this too emphatic."

And that should be that, proving two things: First, Springfield fans rate in St. Louis.

Second, owner Fred Saigh is a smart operator who keeps a close tab on the public pulse as well as his ball club.

Mr. Saigh agreed heartily when, during the conversation, we remarked that to swap Musial would be a most effective way to commit baseball suicide.

Judge Denounces Cards' Giving Cars To The Spectators

St. Louis, June 3.—(P)—A circuit judge, denouncing the gift of automobiles to spectators by the St. Louis Cardinals, today accused Cardinal Owner Fred Saigh of tying the club "to the tail of a gift enterprise lottery."

Judge Francis E. Williams criticized Saigh in a speech to members of a circuit court grand jury. The Cardinals have given away two new cars to the winners of baseball quiz contests. The persons participating in the contests were selected by drawings of ticket stub numbers.

"I am concerned about this ball park lottery," Judge Williams told the grand jury. "The Cardinal team is an honored and honorable St. Louis institution."

In New York Saigh said the quiz contests were conducted by the club as a goodwill gesture to the St. Louis fans.

"We didn't do it for profit," the Cardinal owner said, "nor have we profited from it. I think the people of St. Louis understand my motives, and they understand Judge Williams."

Dodgers Take Final Game Of Series From Cardinals In 5-2 Tilt

Brooklyn, June 3.—(P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers salvaged the final game of their three game series with St. Louis today, beating the Cardinals, 5-2, on the strength of a four run seventh inning rally.

Gerry Staley, making his second start of the season, was working on a 2-0 lead when the Dodgers came to life in the seventh.

Staley retired the first two batters but Gene Hermanski followed with a single and Gil Hodges with his fifth home run of the season to tie the score. Carl Furillo kept the rally alive with a triple to the exit gate in right center field.

The young righthander then intentionally walked Bruce Edwards and was relieved by Ted Wilks. Winning pitcher Paul Minner followed with a single to score Furillo and Pee Wee Reese came through with another one-bagger to plate Edwards.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

THE STORY: First, the murder of Lily Warren and next a fire, turn the "New Edge" Henry Harding on a spree. Ben Cosgrove, one of the late, already is certain that one of her companions is a murderer. The islanders fight the fire but an explosion blows the house and store rooms as the fire is in progress.

They were singing. Yet with the light they all made the effort to pull their clothes and themselves together.

Movement broke up the unit. Slowly, each motion a new pain, they got to their feet. They stared at desolation.

"It's light," Mabel Jones said. "It's time to see what is left."

"It comes to this," George Bascombe said harshly. "It always comes back to this."

Nona put her hand on his arm. "George, please."

He flung her hand away viciously. She staggered, slipped in the mud and would have fallen if Bea had not caught her.

Agnes Firth said nervously, "I wish I could get the grim of my face."

Bea Cosgrove followed Agnes Firth. She shuddered as an accumulation of rain slid down the sides of her neck and traced cold patterns on her shoulders and breast. The group dissolved.

BEFORE many minutes had passed, they gathered again in the scant shelter of the rock. With-out words, they started walking toward the place which had meant shelter. They were 400 yards from the promontory where the house had stood when they found the body.

It was the body of a man. It lay face downward in a shallow, saucer-like depression covered with charred stumps of brush and grass. The once gaily colored shirt was buried. The flesh beneath was crinkled by flames. A whiskey bottle lay near by. Sillwell picked it up, saw it was empty, threw it away with a curse.

Harding and George Bascombe turned the body over. So the matted formlessness of the back of the head did not show. The face was recognizable even though the 30-30 bullet had entered the mouth. It was the mate of the Simpatio.

George Bascombe picked up the rifle which had been hidden and protected by the body. He jacked the lever. A shell flicked out. Bea watched its flight, saw the pale light glint from lead and brass.

"A fisherman," Henry Harding said. "They did it. They swore they'd get even."

Bea Cosgrove thought of the drill holes in the rock of the tunnel, the sawdust George had found. Not termiles, but dynamite packing. She remembered Miguel Oak's words. "A hindrance. A hindrance."

George Bascombe laughed. He stood alone on the right side of the depression. He held the rifle, stock against hip. It appeared a part of him, a familiar part. "And this dead man?"

"It's obvious," Harding said. "He blew up the lower and upper houses. There were over three hundred cases of dynamite stored away in both places. He was caught by the fire when it got away from us. He'd been drinking, but couldn't face the burning. He killed himself."

Sillwell made a mistake. "Oh shut up, George, and get me some whiskey."

George moved a trifle and the muzzle of the rifle centered on Fred's belt buckle. "Run at me, Fred."

It was a different cold Bea felt now. There was death in Bascombe's voice. There was an expectancy and a joy that was worse and more holding than the thought of death.

Fred Sillwell did not move. "It's your play, George." He wet his lips. "There are witnesses."

Governor Recommends State Spend $546,000 At 3 Institutions Here

Governor Stevenson will ask the Illinois legislature to spend $546,000 for state institution construction and improvements in Jacksonville during the two years beginning July 1.

This was shown Friday with an announcement from Springfield that the governor will seek a total expenditure of $73,600,000 for state building activities. Legislation carrying out the program is expected to be introduced next week.

The largest item in his building budget is $22,300,000 for welfare institutions, including a new mental hospital in the Chicago area.

The budget includes proposed expenditures of $299,000 at the Jacksonville State hospital; $135,000 at the Illinois School for the Blind, and $112,000 at the Illinois School for the Deaf.

Three million dollars, "tacked" to the state's long range hospital construction program, is expected to help about 12 communities build their own hospitals. Also in the state health ledger is $1,700,000 to complete tuberculosis sanitariums at Mt. Vernon and Chicago.

About $2,000,000 is tagged for additional land in the Chicago medical center and $1,500,000 for improving the state fair grounds at Springfield. State welfare officials said the new hospital project has "highest priority" in their building program. Some $2,000,000 is allotted to begin work on the 600-bed structure.

Another major item is $1,700,000 for a proposed state reformatory at Sheridan.

Plan Children's Hospital The welfare department also proposes a $598,000 unit to house mentally ill children. A definite site has not been picked but it will be at one of the existing 25 welfare institutions.

More than half of the $13,000,000 for state colleges will go to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. The balance will be split up among schools at DeKalb, Normal, Charleston, and Macomb.

New structures planned with the $7,100,000 for SIU are a life science building, library, and women's dormitory for 125 students.

A new library also is proposed at DeKalb and will account for most of its $2,300,000. At Normal, the major project in a $1,900,000 share is intended for an addition to Fell Hall. A new dormitory to house 150 men students is the main item in a $1,100,000 allotment to Charleston. About $600,000 is earmarked for the state college at Macomb.

To Improve Capital Grounds In addition, the building program includes $2,000,000 to complete a state power plant project in Springfield and $750,000 for improving the state capital grounds.

Of the $22,300,000 for the welfare department, allotments to the various institutions include:

Alton, $599,000; Anna, $1,905,000; Chicago, $552,000; East Moline, $146,000; Elgin, $439,000; Kankakee, $694,000; Manteno, $1,505,600; Peoria, $513,000; Dixon, $416,600; Lincoln State School and Colony, $2,308,600; Illinois Security Hospital, $187,000; Illinois State Training School for Boys, $325,000; State Training School for Girls, $669,000; State Reformatory for Women, $43,000; Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary, $180,000; and Illinois Soldiers and Sailors Children's School, $607,000.
